On behalf of University at Albany President Robert J. Jones you are cordially invited to the:

2nd Annual President’s Forum on Data

The Future of Health Data Analytics

A UAlbany 2020 Program

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 2015

8:00 AM – 2:00 PM

D’Ambra Auditorium

Life Sciences Research Building

University at Albany, State University of New York

Please Register Online Here by February 23

Each year, as part of the UAlbany 2020 program and the UAlbany Advanced Data Analytics Network, the University comes together to explore data as a resource in the development of new knowledge and economic opportunity, and as a tool in policy making and problem solving. This year’s Forum is focused on a critical and timely topic: The Future of Health Data Analytics.

The Forum will explore new and emerging frontiers in health data analytics and serve as a platform for launching collaborations with partners across the health sector in academia, industry and government. Lessons learned will help enable the University at Albany, together with our partners, to advance research, discovery and innovation, to foster new educational and learning paradigms, and to help address today's most complex societal challenges.

Keynote Speakers:

- Courtney Burke, Deputy Secretary for Health, Office of the Governor, State of New York
- Nitesh V. Chawla, Ph.D., Frank Freimann Collegiate Chair of Engineering, University of Notre Dame
- Gregory H. Dorn, M.D., President, Hearst Health
- Dan Drawbaugh, CEO, The Steadman Clinic and the Steadman Philippon Research Institute
- Graham Hughes, M.D., Chief Medical Officer, SAS Center for Health Analytics and Insights
