

ROSELLE DECARLO M.D. SCHOLARSHIP

For Junior or Senior Year Undergraduate Women Interested in Medicine

This scholarship is awarded each year to a woman undergraduate in her junior or senior year at the University at Albany who is engaged in pre-medical studies. Her brother Armondo DeCarlo established it to honor the memory of Roselle DeCarlo M.D., a biology major and premedical student at the University at Albany, in January 2006. A brief history of Dr. De Carlo and this scholarship can be read by clicking here.

Scholarship Qualifications:

- Evidence of intent to pursue a career in medicine
- Employment or volunteer experience in medically oriented field
- GPA in the top half of the class
- Demonstrated financial need
- Involvement in school activities
- Demonstrated commitment to community service

Previous applicants are encouraged to apply; however, previous scholarship winners are not eligible.

Interested women should submit the following to: Ms. Neilia Campbell, ASC, ULB 36

1. Resumé
2. Current degree audit
3. Financial need statement
4. Essay addressing the intent to pursue medicine, experience in the field of medicine and community service experience
5. One recommendation from someone familiar with your medically oriented work, or your commitment to community service

The DeCarlo Scholarship award will not be less than $400. One award will be made for the academic year.

Address questions to Neilia Campbell, Pre-Health Advisor, Advisement Services Center; 442-3971; ncampbell@uamail.albany.edu