

Online Resources

SW LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE'S EVIDENCE DATABASE ON CARE COORDINATION AND SOCIAL WORK INTERVENTION EFFECTIVENESS

<http://socialworkleadership.org/nsw/index.php>

The Social Work Leadership Institute has announced an easy-to-use online database to help scholars, policy analysts, and advocates in aging care stay on top of the latest research and innovations in care coordination and social work intervention effectiveness. The Evidence Database is regularly updated by a professional staff of contributors who filter, review, and catalogue articles published in professional journals both in the U.S. and abroad. Articles included in the database are catalogued along a number of dimensions to provide users with sufficient information to make informed assessments of the relevance, quality and outcomes of the interventions reported. Features of the database include:

- Basic and advanced search options
- Print and Export functions
- Searchable glossary
- Grey Literature search from The New York Academy of Medicine Library
- Domestic and international links to aging and social work outcomes web sites