FUND FOR MEMORY AND HOPE

The Fund for Memory and Hope at UAlbany's Cancer Research Center (CRC) supports research and educational endeavors to add to the combined knowledge that will eventually result in a cure for cancers, especially those of the breast, bladder, prostate and colon. The Fund supports research and educational endeavors by: acquiring equipment and instrumentation vital to ever-changing research demands; providing crucial research stipends for interns and graduate students who work in the laboratories; attracting and assisting new staff researchers through bridge grants; disseminating information on important developments and findings to the public and scientific community; and attracting new supporters to the CRC through community outreach, programs and special events.
