OUR MISSION

Men REACH consists of a collection of UAlbany male professional staff and students who are committed to ending relationship violence, in all its forms. One of our primary goals is to promote healthy relationships on and off campus. We aim to educate and mentor men to be empowered bystanders. Men REACH aspires to create a community of men who understand their role in preventing sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking.

PRESENTATIONS OFFERED

The Social Scene
These programs are presented to incoming students during summer orientation. They focus on healthy relationships and ways men can STEP UP as bystanders to prevent unhealthy relationships.

Man-2-Man
These are monthly discussion forums where men get together to have candid conversations about salient issues related to promoting healthy relationships and masculinity.

Man Up: Be a GREAT Dane!
This skill-building workshop teaches men effective ways to intervene in risky situations. Through the use of scenarios and role plays, men develop a greater sense of how they can make a positive impact as members of our diverse campus community.

Calling All Men!

We need your help... to prevent and address sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking.

This is a men’s issue... therefore, men are responsible for being a part of the solution.

We strive... to redefine manhood in ways that promote respect, integrity, and dignity.

and... to hold other men accountable for attitudes and actions that perpetuate sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking.

Committed to Healthy Relationships
