Exploring Interstate Variation in Vaccine Policies and Coverage

Funding was used to purchase SUDAAN statistical software to analyze data from the National Immunization Survey. Empirically analyses will test two research questions: (1) How did changes in states’ philosophical exemption laws influence vaccine coverage? (2) To what extent is interstate variation in vaccine coverage a result of state vaccine policies and other political factors?

Erika Martin
May 6, 2010