1. 1990 STF files (STF stands for Summary Tape File – from the days of tapes)

See the following WWW site for more information:

<http://www.icpsr.umich.edu/cgi/subject.prl?path=ICPSR&query=IA1d>

STF stands for Summary Tape File (from the days of tapes).

These files have aggregate data person and housing data, aggregated at different geographic levels. For example, a variable may indicate the total number of persons by age in a tract or city.

A, B, C, and D indicate the level of geography and different levels of tabular detail.

"A" State down to the block group level.

"B" States down to block level, zipcode level for stf3b.

"C" US level to "place".

"D" Congressional District.

1, 2, 3, 4 indicate different levels of racial/ethnic detail in the tables, and provide different tables.

"1" has a table for everyone - there are not separate cards by race. It includes are 37 population tables and 63 housing tables.

"2" has "A" records and "B" records. "A" records are total for the geographic level. "B" records are for categories of race and Hispanic origin.

"3" has a table for everyone - there are not separate tables by race. It has different tables than "1", including ancestry. It includes 178 population tables and 99 housing tables.

"4" has "A" and "B" records. "A" records are summary for the geographic area. "B" records are for up to 48 separate race and Hispanic-origin records. "B" records have 178 population and 85 housing tables.

9575 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 1A

SUMMARY = This collection provides 100-percent data for states and their subareas in hierarchical sequence down to the block group level. Also included are complete summaries for places, census tract/block numbering areas, block groups, congressional districts, and consolidated cities. Population items include age, race, sex, marital status, Hispanic origin, household type, and household relationship. Population items are crosstabulated by age, race, Hispanic origin, or sex. Housing items include occupancy/vacancy status, tenure, units in structure, contract rent, meals included in rent, value, and number of rooms in housing unit. Housing data are crosstabulated by race or Hispanic origin of householder or by tenure. Selected aggregates and medians are also provided. Data are presented in 37 population tables and 63 housing tables.

The file for Puerto Rico (Part 72) also contains 100-percent data in hierarchical sequence down to the block group level. Also included are complete summaries for sub-barrio, census tract/block numbering areas, block group, municipio, and place. The population items include age, sex, marital status, group quarters, household type, and household relationship. Population items are crosstabulated by age and sex. Housing items include occupancy/vacancy status, tenure, units in structure, contract rent, plumbing facilities, condominium status, value, and number of rooms in housing unit. Housing data are crosstabulated by tenure. Selected aggregates and medians are also provided. Data are presented in 26 population tables and 48 housing tables.;

EXTENT.COLLECT = 1 data file per state + machine-readable documentation (text and PDF) + database dictionary + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements;

9770 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 2A

SUMMARY = This data collection provides detailed tabulations of 100-percent data items from the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. These tabulations are presented for states and their subareas in hierarchical sequence down to the census tract or block numbering area (BNA) level. Population items include age, race, sex, marital status, Hispanic origin, household type, and household relationship. Population items for Puerto Rico include persons, families, households, sex, age, marital status, household size and household type. Housing items include occupancy/vacancy status, tenure, units in structure, contract rent, meals included in rent, value, and number of rooms in housing unit. Crosstabulations include variables such as single year of age by sex, tenure by age of householder, age by group quarters, aggregate value by units in structure, and tenure by number of nonrelatives. The dataset contains both "A" and "B" records. "A" records are provided for each summary level in a geographic area, and are repeated for each geographic component. "B" records repeat the same data for each summary level/geographic component combination, but are tabulated for each of ten categories of race and Hispanic origin.;

EXTENT.COLLECT = 1 data file per state + machine-readable documentation (text and PDF) + database dictionary + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements;

9782 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 3A

SUMMARY = Summary Tape File 3A contains sample data weighted to represent the total population. The collection also contains 100-percent counts and unweighted sample counts for total persons and total housing units. Additional population and housing variables include age, ancestry, disability, citizenship, education, income, marital status, race, sex, travel time to work, rent, tenure, value of housing unit, number of vehicles, and monthly owner costs. The data for the states include 178 population tables and 99 housing tables. The information for Puerto Rico includes 149 population tables and 101 housing tables. Data are provided for states and Puerto Rico and their subareas in hierarchical sequence down to the block group level.;

EXTENT.COLLECT = 1 data file per state + machine-readable documentation (text and PDF) + database dictionaries + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements;

6117 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 4A

SUMMARY = Summary Tape File 4A contains sample data weighted to represent the total population. The collection also contains 100-percent counts and unweighted sample counts for total persons and total housing units. Additional population and housing variables include items such as age, ancestry, disability, citizenship, education, income, marital status, race, sex, travel time to work, hours worked, rent, persons in household, acreage of property, tenure, value of housing unit, number of vehicles, and monthly owner costs. Data are provided for states and their subareas in hierarchical sequence down to the tract level (the abstract says to the block group level, but it is an error). Within STF 4A, data for each state are represented in one "A" record file and ten "B" record files. The "A" records have 123 population tables and 80 housing tables. These include five population tables and one housing table showing 37 categories of race, and five population tables and one housing table with 26 categories of Hispanic origin. Data are included for all persons for each summary level and geographic component level within a unit of geography. More detailed data are presented in 178 population and 85 housing tables in the "B" records. The "B" records include a separate file for all persons and up to nine separate race and Hispanic-origin files.;

EXTENT.COLLECT = 11 data files per state + machine-readable documentation (text) + database dictionary + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements;

9688 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 1B

SUMMARY = This collection provides 100-percent data for states and their subareas in hierarchical sequence down to the block level. Also included are complete summaries for places, census tract/block numbering areas, block groups, consolidated cities, Alaska Native Regional Corporation, state portion of Metropolitan Statistical Area/Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA/CMSA), and state portion of Urbanized Area. Population items include age, race, sex, marital status, Hispanic origin, household type, and household relationship. Population items are crosstabulated by age, race, Hispanic origin, or sex. Housing items include occupancy/vacancy status, tenure, units in structure, contract rent, meals included in rent, value, and number of rooms in housing unit. Housing data are crosstabulated by race or Hispanic origin of householder or by tenure. Selected aggregates and medians are also provided. Data are presented in 37 population tables and 63 housing tables.;

EXTENT.COLLECT = 2 data files per state + machine-readable documentation (text) + database dictionary + SAS data definition statements + SPSS data definition statements;

9848 Census of Population and Housing, 1990 [United States]: Summary Tape File 2B

SUMMARY = This data collection provides detailed tabulations of 100-percent data items from the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. These tabulations are presented for states, counties, places with 1,000 or more persons, county subdivisions with 1,000 or more persons (selected states), county subdivisions with fewer than 1,000 persons in Metropolitan Statistical Areas/Consolidated MSAs (MSAs/CMSAs) (selected states), and state and county portions of Native American and Alaskan Native areas. Population items include age, race, sex, marital status, Hispanic origin, household type, and household relationship. Housing items include occupancy/vacancy status, tenure, units in structure, contract rent, meals included in rent, value, and number of rooms in housing unit. In addition to the PUMS files available from ICPSR, there are “IPUMS” files available. The files have all of the data available in the PUMS files, but have been modified so that, to the extent possible, variable names are consistent over decades. And, some very useful variables – such as variables making it easier to link spouses, and children to their parents – have been created. IPUMS files are available for most decades from 1850 to 1990. Please see <http://www.ipums.umn.edu/> for more information about these data.
