ADVANCED GRADUATE CERTIFICATES
We are proud to deliver three New York State school leadership certification options through our Advanced Graduate Certificates in School Building Leadership, School District Leadership, and School District Business Leadership. Participants in our school leadership programs network with diverse professionals developing knowledge and skills for serving as highly-effective education leaders in emerging Cradle-to-Career systems.

Programs of Study
- Coursework for the School Building Leadership program consists of 35 credits and is designed to be completed in 21 months, including an eight credit hour internship completed in the final 12 months of the program.
- The School District Leadership and School District Business Leadership programs are 15 credit hours each and build on the School Building Leadership program.
- Our programs are designed for part-time study, allowing students to take classes while working full-time. Classes are scheduled in late afternoon and evenings, and include blended and online learning options.
- In addition to our own high standards as a research university program, we meet New York State requirements for experience, leadership development, training, and demonstration of proficiencies.
- Upon successful completion of the programs, credits may be applied toward the Master’s and Doctoral programs.

Admissions
- We welcome applications at any time for our competitive admissions process.
- Requirements for admission to the School Building Leadership program include: a master’s degree; permanent or professional teaching or pupil services certification, or similar instructional leadership experience; and three years of teaching experience.
- Completion of the Advanced Graduate Certificate in School Building Leadership is a prerequisite prior to enrolling in district-level programs.

Admission Deadline
Rolling, with admission in Fall, Spring and Summer semesters.
