A Hub For World Spanning Research
A Global Policy Analysis Laboratory
And Leadership Development

For Cradle To Career Education Systems

Comprehensive
- Nationally and internationally renowned faculty
- Coursework infused with insights from prominent research
- International student body
- Multidisciplinary expertise that enhances leadership and policy

Application Info
http://www.albany.edu/graduate
contact: 1-518-442-3980
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
Department of Educational Administration & Policy Studies
University at Albany
Albany NY 12222
www.albany.edu/eaps
phone: 518-442-5080
fax: 518-442-5084
For more information please contact
Dr. Gina Giuliano
email: ggiuliano@albany.edu

Ahead of the Curve
Ground breaking research centers, aimed at understanding and improving educational leadership and policy in the state, nation and worldwide.
Synergistic integration of research, teaching and service activities. A leader in advancing educational policy, regionally, nationally and internationally.

Strategically Located
In New York's capital, collaborations are plentiful with a broad spectrum of communities, institutions of higher education and policy makers.

Convenient
High quality programs of study. Classes offered in late afternoon and evening for busy professionals.

Higher Education Program
Master of Science (M.Sc) · Doctor of Phil (Ph.D)
The Higher Education concentration prepares students to be leaders in scholarly, administrative, and policy careers. In addition, this concentration is appropriate for students who are interested in staff or administrative positions in adult and continuing education programs or other educational, business, industrial, and labor organizations. New courses on athletic administration prepare students for job opportunities in collegiate athletics and internship opportunities help students gain hands on experience within the field.

Degree Requirement

Masters (M.Sc) program:
Fall: July 1
Spring: November 1

Doctorate (Ph.D) program:
Fall: February 15
Spring: October 1

Purpose and Goal

A high-level academic and professional unit in the School of Education, EAPS embodies a clear commitment to improving higher educational leadership, and policy analysis.

Toward this goal, EAPS is unique in its dynamic integration of high-quality theoretical and applied research with rigorous instructional programs and field-based activities. These efforts have resulted in EAPS achieving state, national, and international prominence in the fields of higher educational leadership and policy analysis, as well as the social sciences.

Concentration

The Higher Education concentration prepares students to be leaders in scholarly, administrative, and policy careers. In addition, this concentration is appropriate for students who are interested in staff or administrative positions in adult and continuing education programs or other educational, business, industrial, and labor organizations.

Faculty

EAPS faculty encompass diverse knowledge and skills resulting from their collective expertise in social science and humanities disciplines including economics, philosophy, political science, and sociology along with administration or leadership.

The Department is particularly strong in comparative education policy, with an emphasis on state and national reforms.

All faculty members have an earned doctorate and create for EAPS a valuable mix of academic and practical experience in K-12 school leadership, higher education, and policy analysis.

Our Mission

The mission of the Department of Educational Administration & Policy Studies (EAPS) at the University at Albany is to enhance the understanding and practice of leading educational organizations and policy analysis across all levels of education.

The faculty are regionally, nationally, and internationally recognized experts in educational policy educational management and leadership.

Students are trained to be successful higher educational leaders, college and university faculty and administrators. Some become researchers and policy makers at domestic and international agencies and foundations around the world.

Our Students and Alumni

Our students and alumni work in a broad range of institutions and they pursue careers in academic affairs, student success, institutional advancement, enrollment management, institutional research, higher education policy analysis and international development organizations.

Admission Deadline

Masters (M.Sc) program:
Fall: July 1
Spring: November 1

Doctorate (Ph.D) program:
Fall: February 15
Spring: October 1

Full course listing online: www.albany.edu/eaps

Degrees

The Department of Educational Administration and Policy Studies (EAPS) offers concentrations in: Higher Education Leadership, School Leadership and Education Policy.

The Higher Education concentration offers degrees in:
- Masters in Science (M.Sc)
- Doctorate (Ph.D)

Degree Requirement

Doctorate (Ph.D)
- Precore (9)
- Core (6)
- Concentration (9)
- Electives (9)
- Research (3)
- Support Discipline (6)
- Comprehensive Exam
- Dissertation

Masters in Science (M.Sc)
- Precore (9)
- Core (6)
- Concentration (9)
- Electives (9)
- Research (3)
- Support Discipline (6)
Higher Education Program

Master of Science (M.Sc)  ·  Doctor of Phil (Ph.D)

Department of Educational Administration and Policy Studies

A Hub For World Spanning Research

A Global Policy Analysis Laboratory

For Cradle To Career Education Systems

Comprehensive
- Nationally and internationally renowned faculty
- Coursework infused with insights from prominent research
- International student body
- Multidisciplinary expertise that enhances leadership and policy

Application Info

http://www.albany.edu/graduate
contact: 1-518-442-3980
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
Department of Educational Administration & Policy Studies
University at Albany
Albany NY 12222
www.albany.edu/eaps
phone: 518-442-5080
fax: 518-442-5084
For more information please contact
Dr. Gina Giuliano
e-mail: ggiuliano@albany.edu

Ahead of the Curve
Ground breaking research centers, aimed at understanding and improving educational leadership and policy in the state, nation and worldwide.
Synergistic integration of research, teaching and service activities. A leader in advancing educational policy, regionally, nationally and internationally.

Strategically Located
In New York’s capital, collaborations are plentiful with a broad spectrum of communities, institutions of higher education and policy makers.

Convenient
High quality programs of study. Classes offered in late afternoon and evening for busy professionals.