Breakout Session Outlines:

Session 1  Community: Student Governance and Institutional Change
Survey attendees during registration and ask for specific issues that they face within their graduate student associations and institution. We will be breaking up the attendees into 4 groups and give them scenarios pertinent to their responses.
   1. Dealing with difficult people
   2. Transition and change
   3. High turnover
   4. Institutional memory
Each group will create solutions for their scenarios. After, we will come back together and discuss strategies to solve institutional dilemmas.

Session 2  Equity: The Intersection of Student Crises
Survey attendees during registration and ask for specific issues that they face within their graduate student associations and institution. We will be breaking up the attendees into 4 groups (NAGPS values) and give them scenarios pertinent to their responses.
   1. Social Justice
   2. Employment Concerns
   3. International Student Concerns
   4. Legislation
Each group will create solutions for their scenarios. After, we will come back together and discuss strategies to solve institutional dilemmas.

Session 3  Environmental Stewardship: The Graduate Student’s Toolbox for Change
This breakout session will be the more innovative discussion. We will be breaking up the attendees into groups to discuss various ways to create change on and off campus.
   1. Protesting/sit-ins
   2. Organizing a group of individuals
   3. Rapport with administration
   4. Networking to groups on and off campus (public officials, nonprofits)
Each group will create solutions for their scenarios. After, we will come back together and discuss strategies to solve institutional dilemmas.

Toolbox:

Simon Sinek's golden circle suggests that we should start with "why" and build out identities as leaders from the inside out. Fill out this worksheet to create a personal toolbox to guide yourself. Don't feel restricted to its format, just consider the suggested questions:

WHY - What are my core values and guiding philosophies? Why am I doing this? Try choosing six words to answer these questions and writing a brief mission/vision statement like earlier in the program.

HOW - How do I, personally, or my organization as a whole accomplish our goals? What leadership styles do I have the strongest access to? How do I interact with people who have different leadership styles? What is the culture of my organization?
WHAT - What are my/our goals? What are the issues or concerns we are fighting for/against? What are the core things we want to accomplish and make progress on?
