Explore the history of the human connection to nature at the head of the Hudson River and surrounded by the Adirondack, Catskill, Green, and Berkshire Mountains. Pursue an M.A. or Ph.D. in the Department of History at the University at Albany, SUNY.

We offer:
- Proximity to libraries and archives across New York and New England
- Training in museum studies and digital history
- Access to internship and job opportunities
- Fast-track M.A. degree (1 year + 1 summer)

Our environmental history faculty:
- Michitake Aso, Ph.D., 20th-Century Southeast Asia, Global Environmental History, Health and Disease
- Christopher Pastore, Ph.D., Early America, Atlantic World, Environmental History, Oceanic History
- Kendra Smith-Howard, Ph.D., 20th-Century U.S., Environment and Agriculture, Food History, Consumer Culture and Politics

For more information visit: www.albany.edu/history

UALBANY
State University of New York

George Cooke, West Point, From Above Washington Valley, Looking Down the River, 1834, Library of Congress
Graduate Study in Environmental History

Explore the history of the human connection to nature at the head of the Hudson River and surrounded by the Adirondack, Catskill, Green, and Berkshire Mountains. Tap all the advantages of living in New York’s state capital and join our group of environmentally minded scholars, educators, artists, and advocates by pursuing an M.A. or Ph.D. in the Department of History.

We offer:

- Proximity to libraries and archives across New York and New England
- Professional training in museum studies and documentary film and radio production
- Access to an extensive network of internship and job opportunities
- Fast-track M.A. degree (1 year +1 summer)

Environmental History Faculty:

Michitake Aso, Ph.D., University of Wisconsin-Madison
20th-Century Southeast Asia, Global Environmental History, Health and Disease

Christopher Pastore, Ph.D., University of New Hampshire
Early America, Atlantic World, Environmental History, Oceanic History

Kendra Smith-Howard, Ph.D., University of Wisconsin-Madison
20th Century U.S., Environmental History, Rural and Agricultural History, Food History, Consumer Culture and Consumer Politics

Affiliated Faculty

David Hochfelder, Ph.D., Case Western Reserve University
19th Century U.S., Public History of Technology, Business History

Maeve Kane, Ph.D., Cornell University
Economic History, Material Culture Studies, Native American History, Digital History

Gerald Zahavi, Ph.D. Syracuse University
Documentary Film and Video production, Broadcast and Internet Radio production, Local and Regional History, Oral History, Work and Society

Sample Course Offerings:

Readings in U.S. Environmental History
Readings in World Environmental History
Nature, Knowledge, and Empire: Readings in the Environmental History of Early America
Rural and Agricultural History
Environmental History of New England and New York
Global History of Commodities
Consumer Culture and Politics
History of Public Health
Digital History