

Language Living/Learning Community

China House

...is a living/learning community located on Dutch Quad in close proximity the Japanese House Living/Learning Community. The China House community is designed to bring together students who wish to:

- Deepen their Chinese language skills by using the language in a residential environment;
- pursue Chinese coursework being offered by University faculty;
- combine practical language acquisition with increasing sophistication in the disciplines associated with the academic study of China.

Residents of this living/learning community with more than a passing interest in the Chinese language and Chinese studies will have the opportunity to merge the courses that they are registered in with enrichment opportunities in the residence hall. Participants of China House will be required to:

- Actively engage in the study of the Chinese language.
- Mandarin Chinese proficiency beyond EAC 3002 OR be enrolled in one of the following: EAC 201, EAC 202, EAC 301, or EAC 302

AND

- Be enrolled in a Chinese Studies course in both the Fall 2009 and Spring 2010 semesters.

The success of this living/learning community is dependent upon the full participation of each of its members. Residents are expected to fulfill these requirements each semester of residency in this community. Any individual who does not fulfill these requirements may be removed from the community and placed in another residence hall.

I have read and understand, and agree to abide by the terms and conditions of China House Living/Learning agreement. I understand that this agreement shall remain in effect throughout my residency in the program. I also understand that if I do not fulfill my requirements I may be reassigned to another residence hall.
