OPTIONAL PRACTICAL TRAINING FOR F-1 STUDENTS

Application Instructions
Optional Practical Training (OPT) allows students in F-1 status to gain practical experience and training in a field directly related to the major area of study before or after completion of program. Students are eligible to apply for OPT after one academic year in F-1 status. Students are allowed a maximum total of 12 months of OPT, which may be completed all at once, or at several different intervals (e.g., three months each summer). The initial 12 month OPT limit may be extended by 17 months, for a total of 29 months, for certain STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) degree holders (only if the employer is registered with the E-Verify system). Students are eligible to do one year of OPT at each level of study – one year for a Bachelor’s degree, one year for a Master’s degree and one year for a Ph.D. Employment authorization is given in the form of a small, plastic card called an Employment Authorization Document or EAD. This card will show your photo and signature, and the type of employment authorization. It will also specify the dates students are eligible for employment.

Eligibility Requirements
- To be eligible for the Optional Practical Training (OPT) option, you must have been enrolled as a full-time student at least for one academic year and in F-1 status at the time of application.
- The employment must be directly related to your major field of study.

Pre-Completion OPT
Students may only work up to 20 hours per week while school is in session if OPT is authorized before completion of program. There is no specified limit to the number of hours students may work during vacation periods or after completion of program. Part-time OPT is defined as 20 hours or less per week and counts ½ the time of full-time OPT (i.e., 4 months of part-time OPT = 2 months of full-time OPT). Full-time OPT is defined as more than 20 hours per week. Doctoral students who have been advanced to candidacy may use full-time OPT during their dissertation research period while continuing full-time registration. Students must confirm advancement to candidacy before applying for full time pre-completion OPT. Students who choose to break up their OPT into more than one period of pre-completion work authorization or to split their OPT period between pre- and post-completion OPT must file separate applications for each period of OPT.

Post-Completion OPT
Students planning to use Optional Practical Training (OPT) after completion of program may apply to United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) for OPT up to 90 days before completion of program but no later than 60 days after completion of studies. Once OPT is recommended in SEVIS by an International Student Adviser, the student must file Form I-765 with USCIS within 30 days of issuance of Form I-20 recommending OPT. For undergraduate and masters students, the completion date is the date all requirements for the degree are met. For doctoral students,
Graduate Studies considers your completion date to be the end of the semester in which your dissertation is received by Graduate Studies. F-1 regulations do not allow students to postpone completion of program for any reason except unfinished academic requirements for the degree. Post-completion OPT is always defined as full-time (more than 20 hours per week) with the expectation that you will be engaged in full time employment, or seeking full time employment. Please consult the International Student Adviser immediately once you realize you will not complete your program by the end date posted on your Form I-20. Please note that the Form I-20 cannot be extended once the program end dated has passed.

17 Month STEM Extension
Students majoring in certain fields may be eligible to extend their OPT for an additional 17 months, for a grand total of 29 months. These fields are referred to as STEM majors (Sciences, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics). The USCIS has published a list of STEM majors and their corresponding CIP codes. If you question whether or not your major is on this list, the ISSS can help you find out. In addition to being in a major that is on the USCIS STEM list, the employer must also be registered with the E-Verify system for students to qualify for the STEM extension. Students who choose to use the 17 month STEM extension will apply for the initial 12 months of OPT first, and then apply again for the STEM extension before that first 12 months is over (usually after about the first 9 months of OPT). While the regular 12 months of OPT is available to students at each level of study, please be aware that the STEM extension can be used only once by students throughout their academic careers.

Limited Periods of Unemployment to Maintain Status
During the 12 month post-completion OPT, F-1 status is dependent upon employment. Students may not accumulate a total of more than 90 days of unemployment during any period of authorized post-completion OPT. A student’s I-20 will be automatically terminated by SEVIS if more than 90 consecutive days of unemployment are accrued. Please consult the International Student Adviser if you have questions about the unemployment limit. Please note that if the 90-day unemployment limit is reached, a student is then considered out of status. A student’s I-20 can be terminated and no additional 60-day grace period is allowed at that time. However, if a student is unemployed for 90 days and is working for the remaining 9 months, the 60 day grace period still applies. Volunteer work does count as employment under OPT, but it should be at least 20 hours per week and still be related to a student’s major.

Travel while on OPT
Travel while on OPT is a complicated issue. In most cases, re-entry to the U.S. will not be possible once students complete their program unless they have received their EAD card and have a valid offer of employment letter in their possession. Travel outside of the United States while an application is pending with USCIS is strongly discouraged. Once you have completed your studies, you need documentation showing continuing status in order to reenter the U.S. For F-1 students on OPT, the proof that USCIS has granted you continuing status is the EAD card. Consult with the International Student Adviser before making any international travel plans.

Grace period
Following the completion of OPT students have 60 days to depart the U.S., enroll in a new academic program or change to another non-immigrant status.
Health Insurance While on OPT
You must have health insurance while you are on OPT. If you are not working or work for an employer that does not offer health insurance, you may purchase insurance through ISSS (the HTH Student Insurance) at monthly intervals. If you are currently enrolled in the HTH international student health insurance, you must renew your policy with ISSS no more than 30 days after the completion of your program. If you are currently enrolled in NYSHIP insurance as a graduate/teaching/research assistant, but want to switch to HTH after the completion of your program, you must do so before the program completion date.

H-1B Cap-Gap Extension
Duration of status and work authorization will be “automatically extended” for students on OPT who have a timely filed H-1B petition requesting an employment start date of October 1 of the following fiscal year. Although this extension is meant to be automatic, a request must be made in SEVIS. Please schedule an appointment to speak with the International Student Adviser to request a new Form I-20 before your EAD expires in order to take advantage of this cap gap extension. The extension of duration of status and work authorization would automatically terminate upon the rejection, denial, or revocation of the H-1B petition filed on the student’s behalf. An application is filed with USCIS when your application has been received in by USCIS and your check cashed. The only proof students will receive that they have received the Cap-Gap extension is a new I-20 from ISSS showing the new end date of OPT. ISSS does not automatically know if students receive the Cap-Gap extension, so you will need to request a new I-20 from us.

Reporting Requirements while on OPT
While authorized for OPT you are still an F-1 student under the University at Albany’s sponsorship. Make sure that ISSS has the e-mail address you read regularly. We may need to contact you by email in the event of regulatory changes.

1) Provide International Student & Scholar Services with a photocopy of your Employment Authorization Document, or EAD card (front and back).

2) When applying for OPT, keep in mind that you must receive authorization from USCIS and have an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) in your hands before you begin employment. This may take 2-4 months or longer.

3) F-1 regulations require that you report any changes in address within 10 days of moving. You must inform ISSS of the LOCAL address where you are currently living in order for us to report the information to SEVIS. Failure to report your address is a violation of your immigration status and may result in termination of OPT.

4) You must report the name and address of your employer to ISSS. Please see the OPT Report Form on our website at www.albany.edu/isss under “forms”.

5) You are required to report change of employment to ISSS within 10 days.

6) You are required to report the interruption of your employment to ISSS within 10 days of your termination.

7) You must complete a Departure Form when you end OPT and plan to depart the United States. On our website at www.albany.edu/isss under “forms”.

8) You must report changes in your name to ISSS within 10 days of the name change.

9) You must report any changes in immigration status (such as getting an H-1B) to ISSS.
