Role of Judges

Imminent scientists are selected to serve on the panel of judges for each sub-regional symposium. The judges evaluate the submissions of abstracts and research papers and select the students whose original experimental research distinguishes them in the speaker or poster categories.

Judges follow defined criteria for choosing winners; though each sub-regional event is structured slightly different from the others. Ranking and advancement is determined by each sub-regional judging panel.