World Cinema
Freshman Seminar
USFP 100 (10086)

This course will encourage students to explore cultural diversity, other worlds, from the perspective of both time and space.

Films to be shown include both domestic and foreign offerings with themes depicting individuals and cultures in moments of crisis or transition.

The course is taught in English.

Instructor: Maurice Westmoreland
mwestmoreland@albany.edu