Exemption from disability insurance can only be provided by the NYS Workers’ Compensation Board via the issuance of the CE-200.

New York State requires employers to provide disability benefits coverage to employees for an off-the-job injury or illness. Disability benefits coverage is required if an employer employs individuals in New York State for more than 30 days in a calendar year.

The Workers' Compensation Law requires employers to post Form DB-120, Notice of Compliance – Disability Benefits Law, in all business locations. Whenever an employee is absent from work due to disability for more than seven consecutive days, the employer shall, within five days thereafter, provide the employee with the prescribed Form DB-271s – Statement of Rights under the Disability Benefits Law.

If you have additional questions, the Workers’ Compensation Board maintains Customer Service Centers at its District Offices.
