

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY State University of New York

Q: What is a webinar?

A: Webinar is short for web-based seminar and delivers training through the Internet directly to your computer. You are able to view the presentation via your home/office computer and listen to the audio portion of the presentation through a teleconference. Webinars are interactive and allow the participants to ask questions and communicate with the presenter.

Q: What are the technical requirements for webinars?

A. You will need a computer with internet access and a phone connection. It is preferred that you use a phone connection with speakerphone capabilities, or a headset so you can use your hands to interact with the webinar via your computer keyboard and mouse. When you are in a training session you should close down all other programs (email, word documents, etc.).

Q: How do I access the webinar on the day of the training?

A: After you sign up for the webinars through www.nylearnsph.com you will receive a confirmation email from WebEx. PLEASE SAVE THIS EMAIL. It includes all the information you will need to access the webinar, such as:

- a weblink to join the training session (click on the link or cut and paste it into your browser)
- the call in number and participant passcode to join the teleconference
- your registration ID and password required to join the training session
- Note: please log into the webinars 10 minutes early

Q: Can a group participate in webinars?

A: Webinars are designed so that each person participates via their own computer and phone connection. However, you may use a conference room and project the webinar for a group. If you have a group participating via one computer, you will need to designate one person to man the computer during the training session.

Q: How do I sign up for BEHP webinars?

A: You sign up for these webinars through www.nylearnsph.com. They are included in the list of courses within the Basic Environmental Health Program (Program Catalog).
