Center for Public Health Continuing Education Field Epi 101: Outbreak Investigation

December 6, 2011

9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Orange County – Emergency Services Management Center – Goshen, NY

This live training is a one-day regional workshop (Lead instructor - Stan Kondracki) that entails practical application of principles to simulated case files. In addition to the face to face one day workshop, this training includes a self-paced online course. The online course provides an overview of field epidemiology and the steps of an outbreak investigation.

These trainings are for front-line public health nurses and environmental health staff.
