Online MPH Program in Public Health Practice

Overview
This fully online program provides an exciting opportunity for public health professionals and others interested in the field of public health to obtain an MPH in Public Health Practice. Like our traditional MPH program, the online program has a strong academic foundation in the core disciplines of public health and provides opportunities for students to apply new knowledge and skills in the field.

Program Details
- No in-person class requirements
- Part-time study (spring, summer, and fall classes)
- Multi-disciplinary and competency-based coursework
- Accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health
- 51 credit hours including:
  - Core, advanced and elective public health courses
  - Practice-based internships
  - Capstone Course
- The MPH degree requirements include 9 credits (720 hours) of internship. A minimum of 3 credits (240 hours) is required of all students, regardless of previous experience. Up to 6 credits may be waived for students with previous public health experience. Application for waiver of internship credits can be made after enrollment in the program.

Admissions Criteria
- Bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited institution
- Minimum GPA of 3.0 in a completed bachelor’s and/or graduate degree program
- One semester of mathematics (algebra or pre-calculus) or statistics with a grade of B or higher
- One semester of social sciences
- GRE or MCAT scores*
- Personal statement describing educational and professional goals, explaining why you wish to pursue a career in public health
- Resume
- Three letters of recommendation
- Official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions attended. International students must submit a transcript evaluation from World Education Services (WES)

* The standardized test score requirement can be waived for applicants who have completed a graduate degree program from an accredited US institution and received a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the program. Other standardized tests may be considered on a case-by-case basis.

International Applicants: At this time, we are only able to accept international students if they are living in the US for the full duration of their study.