Clinical Practice with Transgender Adults and their Families,
Wednesday, October 14th, 9AM-4PM

This workshop will explore the clinical issues impacting transgender, gender non-conforming, and queer identified individuals, couples, and families, within a systemic perspective. We will outline definitions and language within the context of cultural communities, the process of identity development, and the role of discrimination and bias in the psychological experience of trans people and their families. We will also examine the expanding options for identity expression, including genderqueer, and fluid identities and the role of the psychotherapist in evaluation for medical treatment. The Standards of Care developed by the World Professional Association for Transgender Health will be reviewed, as will the changes in the DSM-5. Medical treatments and referral processes will be outlined.

The cost of this workshop is $75 Professionals/ $10 Students (Scholarships available)

*Space is limited, so please RSVP as soon as possible.

For more information: Call (518) 366-0583, email us <sogi@albany.edu>, or visit our website: http://www.albany.edu/ssw/sogi-project.php

*Street parking is limited; if you want a parking pass order in advance at sogi@albany.edu

This workshop series is made possible through the generous support of Rainbow Access Initiative, Gender Wellness Center, SWARE, The Institute for Gender, Relationships, Identity, and Sexuality, and the Capital Region Pride Center.