Living-Learning Communities 2015-2016

Click on the name of any world to learn more!

World of Accounting
The World of Accounting is designed for incoming freshmen considering a career in accounting. This community is open to intended accounting majors, including those who have been directly admitted to the School of Business, intended math, and intended actuarial science majors. This Living-Learning Community offers students the opportunity to live with others with similar interests, while being introduced to the academic and social expectations of a career in accounting.

World of Biology
The World of Biology is designed for freshmen intending to major in biology (B.S.), and considering graduate work in research or medicine.

World of Business
The World of Business is designed for freshmen Business and Accounting intended majors. These students have the unique opportunity to live with other students interested in majoring in business or accounting.

World of Career Discovery
The World of Career Discovery is designed for freshmen who are undeclared or open in their academic major. These students have the unique opportunity to live with other students interested in exploring different careers and academic majors.

World of Chemistry
The World of Chemistry is designed for freshmen intending to major in chemistry, biochemistry, molecular biology, or in physics but with an interest in chemistry.

World of Creativity and Entrepreneurship
The World of Creativity and Entrepreneurship is designed for freshmen of any major who want to learn how to translate their creative ideas into reality and make a difference in the world.
World of East Asian Studies
The World of East Asian Studies is specially designed for freshmen and sophomores studying Chinese, Japanese, or Korean. This L-LC will help you understand the culture and background for these East Asian languages.

World of Environmental Sustainability
The world of Environmental Sustainability welcomes incoming freshmen from any major with interests in the environment. Students will have the opportunity to be a part of the environmental sustainability movement at one of the nation's 100 most sustainable universities!

World of Fitness and Well-being
Live with other incoming freshmen who are interested in balancing academic success, which requires a lot of time being sedentary and indoors, with a healthy, active lifestyle in the World of Fitness and Sports. Coursework, extracurricular activities, and community service will focus on exercise, nutrition, and the cultural forces that shape our understanding of work and food.

World of Global Medicine and Human Rights
New for the 2015-16 year!! The World of Global Medicine and Human Rights is a community for biology, pre-health and public health majors. It is especially great for students interested in health care professions (medicine, physician assistant, physical therapy, nursing).

World of Health Psychology
The World of Health Psychology is designed for freshmen from any major interested in understanding how to create and maintain habits for healthy living in areas including nutrition and eating, exercise, and a life style free from substance abuse/dependence.

World of History
The World of History is a Living-Learning Community that brings together freshman-year History majors and other interested students who are passionate about studying the past and its relevance for today's world.

World of Jewish Culture
The World of Jewish Culture is designed for any incoming freshman who is interested in learning about Jewish culture. This world is open to students from ALL majors and ALL faiths who are interested in being active members of UAlbany's vibrant Jewish Community, or wish to learn more about Jewish culture, regardless of religious affiliation.
World of Laws and Justice
The World of Laws and Justice is designed for freshmen interested in a pre-law experience. While there is no specific “pre-law” curriculum, students involved in the “World of Laws and Justice” will participate in both classes and extracurricular activities designed to prepare them for law school and careers in law-related fields.

World of New York Politics and Policies for Transfer Students
New for the 2015-16 year! The World of New York Politics and Policies is a unique opportunity for new transfer students who share a passion for politics, government, and public policy to live and learn together in a fun community on campus.

World of Psychology
The World of Psychology is designed for incoming freshmen intending to major in psychology. Students will take classes and live with others who share their interest in psychology and will also get to meet and start developing important relationships with psychology professors.

World of Social Justice and Service
The World of Social Justice and Service is designed for freshmen students of any major with a passion for community service and an interest in social justice. Through the World of Social Justice and Service, students will develop a deeper understanding of the roots of service in America through a social justice lens while living and serving with others who share a commitment to service.

World of Technology
The World of Technology is designed for incoming freshmen who have an interest in technology, computer science, or informatics. Students will have the opportunity to explore the technological skills required by 21st century employers as they learn to create, analyze, communicate, and integrate information in their lives.

World of Theatre
Brand new for the 2015-16 year, the World of Theatre is for students from all intended majors who are interested in acting, production, musical theatre, plays, directing and all aspects of making theatre happen.

World of Transfer Excellence
The World of Transfer Excellence is for new transfer students who are interested in meeting other new transfers and becoming engaged in the UAlbany community. New transfer students with outstanding grade point averages from their previous institutions are invited by the Student Engagement office to apply to the World of Transfer Excellence.
World of Writing
The World of Writing is designed for incoming freshmen with a passion for writing. This Living-Learning Community offers students the opportunity to be engaged members of UAlbany's vibrant writing community, while becoming familiar with the academic and social expectations of university life.

Honors College
The Honors College is a community of developing scholars that includes some of the best teaching professors and some of the brightest and most serious students at UAlbany. The students are earlier in their development as scholars, and the faculty are further along, but all are refining and enhancing their abilities to create knowledge.
