How to Apply

The Living-Learning Community application is part of the University at Albany’s housing application process and will be available to you when you apply for housing through MyUAldnay as of May 1, 2017.

- Select the L-LC you would like to join from the list.
- Select your intended major (including “undecided”), so that the staff in Student Engagement can be sure the preferred L-LC will be a good fit for you.
- Tell us why you would like to be a member of the L-LC you have chosen and how you can contribute to that particular community.

_Students who are selected to be members of their chosen L-LC will be notified via University at Albany e-mail beginning late June._

Questions about the L-LCs can be directed to Student Engagement at studentengagement@albany.edu.

General questions about housing and roommate assignments can be directed to the Department of Residential Life at reslife@albany.edu.

---

World of Writing

“Choosing to be in the World of Writing is a way of saying, ‘this is our craft and we want to be better at it.’ It is a way of choosing to be more than the ordinary student.”

- Nayram Gasu, L-LC Student

The Office of the Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education works to provide opportunities and pathways for students to be active and engaged in their studies, both inside and outside the classroom.
The World of Writing is a program designed to welcome new writers, poets and storytellers into the lively and diverse University at Albany writing community. Host campus for the New York State Writers Institute, UAlbany is also home to a number of active writing groups, clubs, publications and events, and World of Writing freshmen will be introduced to faculty and peers who are passionate about writing and want to share that passion in a community of fellow writers. World of Writing students will participate in a variety of themed activities including:

- Informal writing workshops
- Lectures and class presentations from contemporary authors at the New York State Writers Institute
- Participation in Arch: an e-journal of Undergraduate Creative Writing and Art as a member of the editorial board or even as a published contributor
- Introductions to the various student writing clubs and groups that meet regularly on campus

The World of Writing is open to all incoming freshmen and will explore ways to encourage creative invention, disciplined creation, positive collaborations and visionary projects, all essential qualities for any career path. This L-LC is a particularly good choice for freshmen interested in fields requiring flexible and creative thinking, media literacy, and expertise in writing and communication.

Living

As a member of the World of Writing, you will live with other incoming freshmen who share your interest in writing.

Learning

You will take one or two of your classes together in the fall and spring semesters of your freshman year and attend co-curricular events together as a community.

Community

As a member of an L-LC, you will have a built-in community of friends from the start!

Friends: Study and socialize with fellow L-LC members. Tackle those first-year courses with your friends by forming study groups where you live!

World Ambassadors: “Learn the ropes” from peers selected from last year’s most engaged L-LC students.

Community Assistant: Meet weekly with an upper-class/graduate student to plan or attend social, academic, and community service events.

Lead Faculty Member: Get to know a member of the faculty outside of the classroom at weekly lunches or dinners in your own dining hall!

Academic Advisor: Each L-LC has its own Academic Advisor to help you plan your pathway to success.

Leadership Opportunities: Become a World Representative. Go on to assume a campus-wide leadership role.

Recent national studies have shown that living-learning communities positively impact student success!

Faculty interaction outside the classroom is directly linked to student satisfaction and enhanced learning.

Responsibilities of L-LC Members

- Register for the designated L-LC classes
- Attend lunch or dinner with the faculty mentor and weekly L-LC meetings and/or activities with the Community Assistant
- Participate in All World Events with the other L-LCs (typically two per semester)
- Participate in at least one community service project with your L-LC each semester
- Be a vital and engaged member of your L-LC and of the University at Albany community

For more information about the World of Writing, including classes and activities, or to learn more about the responsibilities of being in an L-LC, please visit our website.

www.albany.edu/student_engagement