Contents

Preface ix
Acknowledgments xi

Chapter 1 The Graduate Student as Teaching Assistant 1
Teaching Assistantships in Perspective 2
Benefits of the TA System 5
Challenges Faced by Teaching Assistants 9
Summary 13
Notes 13

Chapter 2 TA Roles and Styles 17
On Becoming an Authentic TA 18
Teaching Assistant Roles 20
Teaching Assistant Styles 24
TAs in Terra Incognita 28
Summary 33
Notes 34

Chapter 3 Interpersonal Relationships 35
Relating to Students of Varying Personalities 36
Guidelines for Healthy TA–Student Relations 41
Relating to Professors 44
Relating to Staff Members 48
Summary 49
Notes 49

Chapter 4 Planning for Instruction 51
Determining a Starting Point 52
Identifying Instructional Objectives 54
Choosing Instructional Strategies 59
Devising Instructional Materials 60
Creating Instructional Plans 64
Summary 65
Notes 66
Chapter 5 Creating a Supportive Classroom Environment 67
   Being Sensitive to the Quality of the Classroom Environment 68
   Attending to the Physical Environment 70
   Attending to the Psychological Environment 72
   Strategies for Encouraging Student Involvement 74
   The First Class Meeting 77
   Summary 79
   Notes 79

Chapter 6 Lecturing 81
   The Values of Lecturing 83
   Organizing Ideas 84
   Making Ideas Interesting 86
   Inviting Class Involvement 89
   Summary 90
   Notes 91

Chapter 7 Leading Class Discussions 93
   Determining the Function of Class Discussions 94
   Encouraging Student Participation 96
   Phrasing and Sequencing Questions 98
   Providing for Task Roles in Discussions 99
   Providing for Social–Emotional Roles in Discussions 101
   Summary 103
   Notes 104

Chapter 8 Facilitating Student Learning 105
   Teaching Autonomous Sections 106
   Teaching Individuals 109
   Directing Laboratory Sections 115
   Summary 119
   Notes 120

Chapter 9 Assessing Student Learning 121
   The Nature of Assessment 122
   Test-free Assessment 123
   Constructing Tests 127
   To Compare or Not to Compare 134
   Computing Final Grades 136
   Holding Grade Conferences 136
   Summary 137
   Notes 138