Contents

Preface ........................................... xi
The Author ..................................... xxiii

1. What It Means to Be a Critically Reflective Teacher 1
2. Becoming Critically Reflective:
   A Process of Learning and Change 28
3. Learning to Know Ourselves:
   The Value of Autobiography 49
4. Surprised by the Familiar:
   What Autobiographies Reveal 71
5. Seeing Ourselves Through Our Students’ Eyes 92
6. Understanding Classroom Dynamics:
   The Critical Incident Questionnaire 114
7. Holding Critical Conversations About Teaching 140
8. Solving Problems Collaboratively:
   The Good Practices Audit 160
9. Storming the Citadel: Reading Theory Critically 185
10. Using the Literature of Critical Reflection 207
11. Negotiating the Risks of Critical Reflection 228
12. Creating a Culture of Reflection 246

References .................................... 271
Name Index .................................... 289
Subject Index .................................. 293