

Contents

Foreword Malcolm S. Knowles xi

Preface xiii

The Author xxi

Part One:

A Proven Approach to Teaching Adults 1

1. Twelve Principles for Effective Adult Learning 3
2. How the Principles Inform Course Design and Teaching 23

Part Two:

The Principles in Action—Across Cultures and Around the World 39

3. Needs Assessment: The First Step in Dialogue 41
4. Safety: Creating a Safe Environment for Learning 3
5. Sound Relationships: The Power of Friendship and Respect 65
6. Sequence and Reinforcement: Knowing Where and
How to Begin 78
7. Action with Reflection: A Lesson in Leadership 87
8. Learners as Subjects of Their Own Learning 97
9. Learning with Ideas, Feelings, and Actions 114

- 10. Immediacy: Teaching What Is Really Useful 124
- 11. Assuming New Roles for Dialogue: The Death of the “Professor” 140
- 12. Teamwork: How People Learn Together 149
- 13. Engagement: Learning as an Active Process 159
- 14. Accountability: Success Is in the Eyes of the Learner 166

Part Three:

Becoming an Effective Teacher of Adults 177

- 15. Using the Twelve Principles in Your Own Teaching 179
- 16. How Do You Know You Know? 192

References 195

Index 198