DINING

UAS is continually working to improve the dining experience for University at Albany students. Within the past three years, Dutch and Colonial Quad Dining Rooms have been renovated, and the completely new Indian Quad Dining Room reopens for fall 2009 featuring cooked-to-order dining.

The State Quad Dining Room will be closed for renovation during the 2009-2010 school year (see architect's renderings above). In preparation for this, a new take-out dining facility has been constructed on State Quad, and State Quad residents will have five all-you-care-to-eat dining facilities along with the Campus Center food court venues available to them.

Meal Plans are accessed with your SUNYCard and have three components:

Meals, which can be used by you in any of the all you care to eat dining rooms, and to treat a friend to dine with you. Regular dining room hours are 7:30a to 8p. Dining Rooms are located in the University residential quads.

Meal Trades, which are meal combinations available at selected Campus Center food locations and in late-night venues located in residential dining rooms. When you swipe your card for a meal trade, a meal is deducted from your meal plan balance. For specific meal trade options, times and locations, visit albany.edu/uas.

Munch Money, a declining balance account used to purchase tax free snacks, beverages, and additional meals at UAAlbany food venues or in vending machines from 11p to 7a. Munch Money carries over from semester to semester as long as you purchase a meal plan for each semester.
