The Academic Support Center created this list of tips to help you finish the semester strong, as we know this may be a challenging time for a multitude of reasons!

STAY ORGANIZED
- Make a schedule for yourself. Zim meetings, due dates, exam dates, study blocks, tutoring, write it all down!
- Prioritize your coursework. Which assignments will take longest?
- Work on one thing at a time. Trying to juggle more than one task at a time can get hectic!
- Create a physical space to do your work.
- Designate a space where you work will help your brain focus on academics.

STAY CONNECTED
- Talk to your Academic Advisor.
  - They can help you if you are dealing with added stresses or if you are feeling overwhelmed.
- Keep in contact with people who are important to you friends, classmates, mentors, etc.
- Organize virtual dinner parties or game nights.

STAY INFORMED
- Pay attention to when assignments are due.
  - Have due dates been changed? Put them on a calendar in front of your work space to remind you.
- Check Blackboard consistently.
  - Make it a daily habit, whether something is due or not.
- Check your email daily!
  - Professors, advisors and the University will send you updates if you don't want to miss.

STAY STRONG
- Practice self-care and be a gentle with yourself.
- Remember that campus resources are still available remotely. Please click the following links:
  - A+ Tutoring and Academic Support
  - CAP-B (Counseling and Psychological Services)
- Virtual Walk-In Advisor
  - An adviser from the Academic Support Center is available.
- COVID-19 University Response Page
  - For important information from the University

MAKE A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO ONLINE LEARNING

YOU GOT THIS. WE GOT YOU!