Overview

The year of 2019 is another productive year for UAlbany CI. CI has made big strides in teaching, cultural and academic programs, and has gain tremendous recognition from the community.

CI offered about 20 different language and cultural classes to 387 credit and non-credit students, and organized 2 pedagogical training workshops for local Chinese teachers, with a total of 80 participants. Culturally, CI organized 18 cultural events, including 4 major performance and events, reaching about 7000 audiences. Cultural activities are more diverse, from performance to book exhibit, from arts to traditional Chinese music, which attracted a wider range of people and received numerous positive feedbacks. With both teaching and cultural events, CI has built up a unique Tai Chi and Chinese music program. Academically, CI’s Speaker Series invited 9 distinguished China scholars from different disciplines to campus to present their research, which benefited about 700 UAlbany faculty and students. CI also established a China Research Small Grant Program, and helped one faculty to receive $7950 for his research.

CI has also significantly strengthened its services and engagement with the community. Strong partnerships have been developed with several local public libraries, K-12 schools including Tech Valley High School, Albany High School, Chinese School, Edmond J. O’Neal Middle School of Excellence, and Albany Montessori Magnet School, and community organizations such as Chinese Community Center (CCC). The Chines School of the CCC at Capital District awarded Director Youqin Huang the “Outstanding Service Award” for CI’s contribution in community service.

CI has experience some personnel changes in 2019. The former Chinese Director Dr. Jianlin Shuai returned to China in July, and two volunteers, Ms. Meng Liu and Ms. Yuanyuan Zhou ended their terms in May. Two new volunteers were planning to come to UAlbany, but one withdrew due to medical reasons, and another was rejected for visa. Instead a third volunteer, Ms. Lingjia Zhuang joined UAlbany in September. The Board of Advisors also had some changes. Dr. Jeanette Altarriba, Interim Dean of College of Arts and Sciences joined the Board, replacing former Dean Elga Wulfert; and Prof. David Dai from School of Education replaces Paul Miesing form School of Business.

The budget for 2019 was approved at the end of October, with $178,420. Due to carryover from the last year, the actual amount received from Hanban was $ 60,793.

The following is a list of events and activities CI has organized during the year 2019 (Unless noted otherwise, events are held at UAlbany uptown campus).

Academic:

- Speaker Series

  Nine distinguished scholars from a wide range of disciplines (sociology, geography, economics, urban planning, psychology, and education) were invited to UAlbany to present their research on various aspects of China. One of them, Yu Xie, is a Bert G. Kerstetter ’66 University Professor of Sociology from Princeton University, who is a Fellow of American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Academia Sinica and the National Academy of Sciences. Another is a Chair Professor, a Fellow of the Academy of the Social Sciences (UK) Dr. George Lin from the University of Hong Kong. With the high quality of these research presentations, CI’s Speaker Series has gained much recognition from both faculty and students on campus, and members from the community. For each talk, we attracted about 40 - 90 people, with a total of 639 participants this year.

Conferences/workshops

1. May 04, 2019: a one-day workshop on “Chinese Course Design and Classroom Management”. Dr. Yongping Zhu, Associate Professor and Chairperson of the Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures at the University of Notre Dame and Mr. Qiang Chen, a national board-certified language teacher and a Chinese instructor at Enloe Magnet High School, Raleigh, North Carolina conducted a very interesting and interactive pedagogical training to over 40 Chinese language teachers at the Massry Center for Business-BB 010.

China Research Small Grant Program

To encourage China research, CI sent out a call for proposal to the whole campus in January, and received 19 proposals from both faculty and graduate students in 10 different departments. A review committee of 8 faculty members reviewed all proposals using a similar assessment approach to UAlbany Faculty Research Award Program (FRAP). Top three proposals were selected and submitted to Hanban in the annual budget (two by faculty and one by graduate student). Only one proposal by Associate Professor Ray Koslowski (Political Science) titled “The UN Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration and its Implementation: The Case of China” received full funding of $7950.

Cultural Events:

CI organized 18 cultural events of various kinds, covering a variety of topics, among which four were large cultural performances.

Major performances:

1. Feb. 2nd: 2019 Chinese New Year Fair was held at UAlbany Campus Center Ballroom. Congressman Paul Tonko, and Dean of International Education and Vice Provost of Global Strategy Dr. Harvey Charles attended this event, together with over 1000 people from both on and off campus.
