SEXUALITY EXHIBITS BY PROJECT SHAPE (Sexual Health And Peer Education Program):

In its role as a peer education program focused on issues of sexual health, Project SHAPE members will host a series of exhibits in the Campus Center Lobby from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM during Sexuality Month. The exhibits will include information, as well as handouts and brochures, on topics such as contraception, sexually transmitted infections, HIV/AIDS, and breast and testicular cancer.

MIDDLE EARTH EXHIBIT

Visit the Middle Earth exhibit in the Campus Center Lobby from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM during Sexuality Month and pick up free information and giveaways.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES EXHIBITS

The University Libraries will have two book displays set up in the University Library for viewing. The first display will be LGBTQI Fiction and Non-Fiction. The second display will focus on Gender Inequality. These displays will highlight books available in our collection and all the books displayed will be available for check-out at the library’s circulation desk. These displays will be up and available during all hours the library is open and throughout the entirety of Sexuality Month. For a listing of library hours, please visit: www.library.albany.edu.
Trace Lysette is an actress and advocate best known for her role of 'Shea' on Amazon's critically acclaimed series, Transparent. But how did she get to where she is today? From a young age, Trace knew she was different and would eventually need to face this “otherness” that would not let go. Growing up in the 80s and 90s in a small town outside of Dayton, Ohio, she began her journey into an unaccepting world that led to obstacles, adversity, and eventually rock bottom – when she lost her will to live. Hear Trace speak about the influencers in her life, both good and bad, that pushed her to continue her gender transition and how she picked herself back up to live authentically as the woman she is today.

As a transwoman, Trace advocates for the trans community and the LGBT community who still have to fight for their rights. She stands up against violence of trans-men and -women, and speaks out to those suffering with depression and suicidal thoughts. As an actress, she advocates to break down the barriers that keep trans actors limited in the roles they play. She wants to change Hollywood standards and break that glass ceiling. Trace began her career auditioning for cisgender (non-trans) roles. She shares her story of landing her first female role in season 14 of Law & Order: SVU, what her acting teacher had to say at the time, and the trepidations she faced on set for not disclosing that she was trans. After appearing in her role on Transparent, Trace decided to be herself - an out, proud, trans actress - and continues to audition for both trans and non-trans roles. She aims to raise societal awareness towards the trans and LGBT community and be a positive influence on those who may be struggling on their path.

ABOUT MIDDLE EARTH

Established in 1970 in the spirit of students helping students, the Middle Earth Peer Assistance Program is a campus service in which trained University at Albany undergraduate students offer hotline assistance and peer education under the supervision of professionals at Counseling and Psychological Services. BOOKS AND AUTHORS

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8th
EMILY WITT, INVESTIGATIVE JOURNALIST AND AUTHOR
7:30 PM, Campus Center 375

Emily Witt is the author of Future Sex (2016), a brave, first-hand investigation of the many varieties of sex and dating in 21st century America. In candid fashion, the 30-something author shares her search for love in a confusing world of dating apps, transient hook-ups, and novel sexual cultures. The New York Times reviewer called the book, “smart, funny, beautifully written....” The Washington Post reviewer said, “These gorgeously written essays, linked by tone, style, and a singular ambitious purpose, are brimming with intellect and infused with a caustic, compelling humor.... Future Sex explores sexual predilections that you never thought you’d find interesting.”

Sponsored by the New York State Writers Institute in association with UAlbany’s Sexuality Month, a program of the Middle Earth Peer Assistance Program of Counseling and Psychological Services.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9th
I AM NOT YOUR NEGRO: A Celebration of the Life and Legacy of James Baldwin
Student reading of Baldwin’s works with commentary by Darryl Pinckney
4:15 PM, Recital Hall, Performing Arts Center

Darryl Pinckney, novelist, playwright, essayist, and author of the acclaimed new novel Black Deutschland (2016), will provide commentary on selections from the works of James Baldwin, one of the iconic authors of the 20th century. Selections will be presented on stage by UAlbany students. In a Boston Globe review of Black Deutschland, John Freeman said, “The essayist and novelist Darryl Pinckney probably knows Baldwin’s life and work better than any living American, and in his long-awaited second novel, Black Deutschland, he pays Baldwin the highest tribute: telling a story in which a man much like Baldwin - a gay, black, alcoholic ex-pat - learns that who he is, who he loves, where he’s from can’t be disentangled.”

Film screening of I AM NOT YOUR NEGRO with commentary by Darryl Pinckney
7:00 PM Page Hall, 135 Western Avenue, Downtown Campus
Directed by Raoul Peck (United States, 2017, 93 minutes, PG-13, color and b/w)

Based on James Baldwin’s unfinished memoir, Remember This House, this Oscar-nominated documentary presents his meditations on the history of racism in the United States and his perspectives on slain Civil Rights leaders Medgar Evers, Malcolm X, and Martin Luther King, Jr. The Guardian called it, “one of the best movies about the Civil Rights era ever made.”

Presented by the Writers Institute in conjunction with the Performing Arts Center with support provided by the University at Albany Foundation, Office of Intercultural Student Engagement, University Auxiliary Services, English Department, Sexuality Month, and the Diversity Transformation Fund administered through the Office of Diversity and Inclusion.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7th
12:30 PM, Humanities 354
Rajani Bhatia will be presenting from her new book, Gender Before Birth: Sex Selection in a Transnational Context.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21st
12:30 PM, Humanities 354
Trevor Hoppe will be presenting from his new book, Punishing Disease: HIV and the Criminalization of Sickness.
Abby Stein is the first openly transgender woman raised in a Hasidic community. In addition to presenting her own story of leaving the Ultra-Orthodox community and living as a woman of Trans experience, she will be delving into Judaic text within the lens of gender and sexuality.

Abby Stein was born and raised in a Chasidic family of rabbinic descent; she is the 10th generation of the Baal Shem Tov - Founder of the Chasidic movement. She attended Yeshiva, completing a rabbinical degree in 2011. In 2012, Abby left the Chasidic world to explore different worldviews, while struggling with gender identity. A few months ago, she came out as a woman of trans experience, and she has been doing work towards her goal to raise awareness and support people going through a similar experience. Her story has been covered in the New York Times, New York Post, Jewish Daily Forward, Kveller, Daily Mail, as well as live appearances on Fox News, CNN, HuffPost Live, ShowTime and more. Abby is a second year student at Columbia University's School of General Studies studying Women's and Gender Studies with a concentration in Political Science.

This reading of "The Vagina Monologues" is part of the International V-Day College Initiative which includes colleges and universities around the world. The University at Albany's successful shows in past years have sold out and raised funds for local rape crisis and domestic violence shelters. The program will be based on the off-Broadway play "The Vagina Monologues." The performance, which has been heralded as "alternately hilarious and deeply disturbing" by the New York Times, will be conducted by University at Albany students and alumni joined together to end violence against women. Proceeds from performances will be donated to Equinox in Albany, New York.

DOES EVERYBODY WANT TO HAVE SEX? A CONVERSATION ABOUT (A)SEXUALITY
9:00 PM - 10:15 PM, Campus Center 375
In the U.S., we are bombarded with images about gender, sexuality and sex. But does everyone have a drive to engage in sex? What does it mean if someone does not feel a drive to engage in sexual acts? In this program, we will explore the messages we receive around sex and college, and we will unpack the difference between emotional, romantic and sexual attraction. Utilizing short video clips and discussion, we will come to a deeper understanding around what it means to be asexual on campus in the U.S.

COMING OUT TRANSGENDER/GENDER, GENDER NON-CONFORMING, OR NONBINARY
9:00 PM - 10:15 PM, Campus Center 375

It seems like more and more Trans, GNC and NB identified people and issues facing these communities are coming to the forefront in our news and culture. Even with all the public focus, both positive and negative, coming out as TGNC/NB is still a very personal journey. This program seeks to welcome those navigating gender difference into an open conversation about what it means to hold these identities in today's climate. Students will learn what resources are available on campus to assist those interested in transition or in navigating gender differently. Allies are welcome to attend, some basic terms will be reviewed.

THE EMPOWERED BYSTANDER: WE NEED YOU TO PREVENT SEXUAL VIOLENCE
7:30 PM – 9:00 PM, Campus Center 375
Sexual violence is happening at alarming rates on college campuses across the nation. You have the power to stop it. Through this training, we will challenge your belief about what it means to be an active bystander and introduce you to the idea of empowered bystander – a person who also intervenes in a positive way when he or she observes inappropriate behaviors or warning signs of violence. We will empower and encourage you to be these active, positive bystanders. We will teach you the different methods for an active, positive bystander intervention so you have the tools you need to make a difference. In this way we will change the culture and reduce violence.

SEXUALITY MONTH FEATURED PRESENTATION
“Gender and Sexuality from a Jewish Lens”
Presented by Abby Stein, Transgender Activist
7:00 PM, Campus Center 375
(See page 5 for details)
ABOUT SEXUALITY MONTH

During the 35 years that Sexuality Month has been in existence at the University at Albany, college students across the nation have been faced with critical issues and choices. Concerns related to gender and sexuality, HIV/AIDS and other sexually transmitted infections, relationships, identity, and reproductive health have remained at the forefront across time.

In recognition of the importance of the above issues for students, the content of programs within Sexuality Month reflects these key themes. In this way, we hope to meet the needs of our students as well as to provide a retrospective and prospective look at the issues.

All programs listed in this brochure will be presented or supervised by individuals with expertise in the topic area. We hope the information that will be presented will encourage learning, dialogue, and critical thinking, and will continue to move Middle Earth forward in its mission of prevention and the promotion of health.
