EAP Art Break

It's time for another EAP Art Break! This is a great way to get energized during your work day and connect with others who are interested in the arts and learning about the UAlbany campus!

Join us for this semester's Art Break when we will explore two solo exhibitions: we are here. Nicole Cherubini and Carrie Schneider: Rapt. In addition, as part of an ongoing series of on-site projects, we'll experience Louise Lawler: Birdcalls 1972/81 that is featured in the Museum's entrance and lobby.

Naomi Lewis will guide us through what the Art Museum describes as “elegant and powerful ceramic sculptures by Cherubini, to deft and intimate photography and video by Schneider, to the feminist work Birdcalls by seminal artist Lawler.” Our tour will allow us to engage with art in new and thoughtful ways.

To register, contact:
Brenda Seckerson,
EAP Coordinator
518-442-5483
bseckerson@albany.edu

Or, register online:
http://www.albany.edu/eap/event_sign-up.htm

Thursday, February 21
Noon—12:45 pm
University Art Museum

For more information about the University Art Museum exhibits, go to:
http://www.albany.edu/museum/index.shtml

Nicole Cherubini, 746.932,514.549713826, 2018, Earthenware, terracotta, black clay, glaze, underglaze, aluminum, steel bolts, wood, magic sculpt, PC-11.