

Contents

Preface — v

List of contributors — xii

Introduction

Rachel Giora and Michael Haugh

1 Introduction — 3

Part I: Socio-cognitive and experimental pragmatics

Raymond W. Gibbs, Jr. and Herbert L. Colston

2 The emergence of common ground — 13

Robert E. Sanders

3 Overcoming differences and achieving common ground:
Why speaker and hearer make the effort and how they go about it — 31

Marta Dynel

4 “Is there a tumour in your humour?": On misunderstanding
and miscommunication in conversational humour — 55

Victoria Escandell-Vidal

5 Notes for a restrictive theory of procedural meaning — 79

Marit Sternau, Mira Ariel, Rachel Giora and Ofer Fein

6 Deniability and explicatures — 97

Eline Zenner, Nane Mertens, Laura Rosseel and Dirk Geeraerts

7 The acquisition of loanword pragmatics: An exploration — 121

Jonathan Culpeper, Michael Haugh and Daniel E. Johnson

8 (Im)politeness: Metalinguistic labels and concepts in English — 135

Part II: Philosophical and discourse pragmatics

- Laurence Horn
- 9 What lies beyond: Untangling the web — 151
- Kasia M. Jaszczolt
- 10 The true provenance of self-reference:
A case for salience-based contextualism — 175
- Wayne A. Davis
- 11 Transparent reports as free-form idioms — 193
- Jacques Moeschler
- 12 How speaker meaning, explicature and implicature work together — 215
- Chaofen Sun and Ming Chew Teo
- 13 Temporally closed situations for the Chinese perfective LE 了 — 233
- Jesús Romero-Trillo
- 14 Acategorical pragmatic markers:
From thematic analysis to adaptive management in discourse — 255
- Anita Fetzer
- 15 Contrastive discourse relations in context:
Evidence from monologic and dialogic editing tasks — 269
- Lluís Payrató
- 16 Pragmatics and multimodality.
A reflection on multimodal pragmastylistics — 293

Part III: Interpersonal and societal pragmatics

- Klaus P. Schneider
- 17 Pragmatic competence and pragmatic variation — 315
- Anne Barron
- 18 Offers in English — 335

- J. César Félix-Brasdefer
19 The intercultural speaker abroad — 353
- Jörg Meibauer
20 Pragmatics and children's literature — 371
- Jacob L. Mey
21 Unloading the weapon: Act and tact — 389
- Kepa Korta
22 The meanings and contents of aesthetic statements — 399
- Index — 418