Building Leadership through Solidarity, Bridging Differences through Community

The Department of Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (WGSS) attracts some of the sharpest minds and most dedicated hearts that desire social change in the interest of equality and liberation across gender, race, sexuality, ability, and nationality differences. WGSS students are taught by a diverse faculty, and course offerings reflect the department’s commitments to intersectionality, interdisciplinarity, and social justice, with topics ranging from women’s health, to media studies, to transnational and global perspectives, to LGBTQ Studies. The Master of Arts in WGSS prepares students to become change agents in whatever career path they choose, such as doctoral studies, K-12 education, community organizing, non-profit leadership, public policy, social work, law, health, and communications.

Opportunities for Master of Arts in Women’s, Gender and Sexuality Studies are:

Feminist Pedagogy & Community Engagement
Professional Development in National, International, and Regional Conferences
Final Projects Tailored to Fit Individual Students’ Talents and Interests

“I FOUND MY OWN VOICE ALONGSIDE THE VOICES OF OTHER WOMEN OF THE WORLD IN WGSS”

SEXUALITY INTERSECTIONALITY GRADUATE HANGOUT (S.I.G.H.)

Graduate students in the department founded S.I.G.H., a graduate student organization, in order to develop events of their interest and to foster meaningful intellectual and social relationships. Initiatives that may be launched under the auspices of S.I.G.H. include conferences, film screenings, speaker series, and other activities supported by the Graduate Student Association (GSA) at the University at Albany.
WHY WOMEN’S, GENDER AND SEXUALITY STUDIES @UALBANY?

- COST: Save with tuition rates lower than those at most private universities.
- FACULTY: Gain a critical understanding from distinguished faculty engaged in influential research and practices.
- INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY: Be part of a diverse community composed of educators and learners from around the globe; this close-knit, collaborative group provides valuable support and varying perspectives.
- LOCATION: Live in the capital of New York State, an inclusive, multicultural community; take advantage of numerous internship and job opportunities. The University at Albany is located in the hub of feminist and other social justice movements in the capital region of New York, from anti-war activism, to prison abolitionism, to environmental and reproductive justice, to anti-rape culture, anti-racism, queer and labor rights. Grounded in real-world struggles—both local and global—the women’s, gender, and sexuality studies curriculum bridges disciplines in order to create new questions, new knowledge, and new practices that tackle interlocking oppressions and animate multiple forms of resistance.

“I AM CONSTANTLY AMAZED AT HOW MY WGSS EDUCATION HAS PREPARED ME FOR MY CURRENT CAREER. MY UNAPOLOGETIC STANCE AND IMPLEMENTATION ON INCLUSION, DIVERSITY AND CENTERING MARGINALIZED VOICES ARE ALL CORE VALUES OF WGSS.”

SHANTALA THOMPSON, MA 2011
