UAlbany offers Conditional Admission in a variety of graduate programs and departments to international graduate applicants who meet the academic requirements of the university, but whose TOEFL or IELTS score does not meet the minimum language proficiency requirement.

Some of these departments include:

- MBA Program
- MA and PhD Economics
- MS and PhD Physics
- MS Geographic Information Science
- Master of Regional Planning
- MA Geography
- MA Liberal Studies

In addition to these UAlbany graduate programs, Albany Law School also offers Conditional Admission through the Intensive English Language Program (IELP).

Through Graduate Conditional Admission, students must successfully complete the highest level in UAlbany’s IELP with an A- grade or higher. Graduate applicants with TOEFL or IELTS scores below the minimum requirement may be considered on a Conditional basis with department consent. Students who wish to receive Conditional Admission to UAlbany must apply to both UAlbany and IELP.

APPLY NOW!

You must apply to BOTH the University at Albany and the Intensive English Language Program.

Step 1: Apply to the University at Albany (www.albany.edu/international-admissions)

Step 2: Apply to the Intensive English Language Program (www.albany.edu/ielp)