THINGS LEFT BEHIND

Sean Corcoran
Upon purchasing our first home, these are the objects that my wife and I found left behind from the home’s previous occupants. Forgotten, and perhaps left for rediscovery - they live in a paused state where their only real purpose of existence is for reflection.