

Transfer Articulation Agreements

The University at Albany has long been committed to providing an opportunity for two-year college students to transfer into the University to continue their education.

Development of articulation agreements for particular programs to ease the transfer process has been and continues to be a priority of the University.

Here is a list of colleges that have current articulation agreements. We encourage all students interested in transferring to the University at Albany to speak with your transfer counselor.

Adirondack Community College

Berkshire Community College (MA)

SUNY Cobleskill

Dutchess County Community College

Fulton-Montgomery Community College

Hudson Valley Community College

Mohawk Valley Community College

Mohawk Valley Community College and College of Emergency Preparedness,
Homeland Security and Cybersecurity Dual Admissions MOU

Schenectady County Community College