

RF-Employees: University at Albany CAMPUS ADVISORY

To All UAlbany Research Foundation Employees,
As the University enters a formal Pause, student activities, in-person instruction, and general student movement around campus will be greatly impacted as noted in the President's message.

- Administrative offices should continue to operate with minimal on-campus staffing as they have all semester, including student employees essential to continued operations.
- Supervisors will continue to use their discretion regarding who needs to be on campus as circumstances change. (Only those researchers who were deemed "essential" by their supervisor and were added to the list of essential researchers are allowed to be on campus.)
- Employees are not prohibited from coming to campus, so those not deemed essential who need to come to campus occasionally may continue to do so.
- All members of UAlbany community should review the PAUSE website mentioned in President Rodriguez's message of Nov 9. On that webpage, researchers should read the additional guidelines to follow during PAUSE by clicking "Information for Researchers" under Academics and Research.

While the University will continue to provide an environment that meets or exceeds recommended safety measures, personal behavior continues to be the best defense in stemming the spread: mask wearing, hand washing, maintaining distance from others and avoiding gatherings. These behaviors will remain critically important during the Pause.

Health Screening Assessments and pooled testing will continue to be required for all those coming to campus.

Continue to monitor the University's COVID-19 web page for updates or call the COVID hotline with questions at 518-442-2683 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
