BACKGROUND:  In response to the COVID-19 global pandemic, federal agencies and other sponsors have issued numerous funding opportunity announcements (FOAs) spanning a range of research and scholarly disciplines.

As a result, the Division for Research has established a COVID-19 funding opportunities web resource to share possible funding avenues that might be of interest to you and your colleagues across the University.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES: As you adapt to our government and university’s guidance during the COVID-19 outbreak, we encourage you to explore these funding opportunities to potentially support and advance your research and scholarly pursuits.

In the COVID-19 FOA web resource, you will see numerous funding opportunities from NSF, NIH, DOE, HHS, DOD, CDC, among other private and international sponsors. In addition, there is also information and guidance on how to apply to the COVID-19 SUNY Seed Funding program.

For each of these opportunities, please be sure to:

- Think outside the box about high-impact and innovative ideas
- Talk with colleagues from your academic unit and other departments/centers about a concept and/or a collaboration
- Contact your Research Administrator (RA) and/or other Division leadership to review a potential funding opportunity
- And, of course, reach out to a program officer from a potential sponsor to discuss and share your concept(s).

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION & QUESTIONS: If you should have any questions or are in need of additional information, please feel free to reach out to research@albany.edu or call (518) 956-8010.

In the meantime, we will continue to keep you apprised of further updates that might impact your research and scholarly pursuits in the days and weeks ahead.
