

UNIVERSITY
AT ALBANY
State University of New York

Have a Question About Your Research During COVID-19?

Research FAQs

The Division for Research is pleased to inform you about the

COVID-19 Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) Resource

*This webpage will provide UAlbany faculty & researchers answers to a number of Frequently Asked Questions,
as well as an opportunity to submit new questions,
related to conducting research at UAlbany
during the COVID-19 pandemic*

To View the Current FAQs or Submit a New Question: CLICK HERE

(Or visit this site by clicking on the following URL: www.albany.edu/research-guidance/FAQ.html)

BACKGROUND: The Division for Research recently launched the COVID-19 Research Website to provide research guidance and information to our research community in the aftermath of the novel coronavirus, COVID-19.

We have received a number of questions and wanted to share the responses through this “Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)” resource on a variety of research-related topics spanning:

- Sponsored Programs Administration
- RF - Human Resources
- Regulatory and Research Compliance - Human Subjects Studies (IRB)
- Animals Use in Research and Teaching (IACUC and LAR)
- Grants & Faculty Development
- Innovation and Commercialization
- Business Development

In addition, we have also provided a form to submit any further questions you may have, which have not been addressed by the FAQs.

We hope this web resource will provide our research community answers to questions you may have, and assist you in advancing your research during this challenging time.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION & QUESTIONS: If you should have any questions, please feel free to reach out to research@albany.edu or call (518) 956-8010.

In the meantime, we will continue to keep you apprised of further updates that might impact your research and scholarly pursuits in the days and weeks ahead.

UNIVERSITY
AT ALBANY
State University of New York

MSC 112, 1400 Washington Avenue, Albany, NY 12222