Symposium

1. Symposium on “What is ‘ESG’ and Why Should Businesses Care?” tbd
2. Food Desert/Security June 5, 2017 brought together major participants in the Capital Region including public policy officials, community representatives, industry members, and my academic colleagues. The purposes include sharing information about the magnitude of the problem, probable causes, and discussion of solutions. Follow-up included a special issue journal and applying for a grant.

Forums

1. “Forum on Social Enterprises Research” on November 11, 2016 brought together UAlbany faculty interested in social enterprises with intent to develop papers for special issue journal and/or target external funding opportunities. CAUSE has been a magnet that has attracted colleagues from other UAlbany units in a common cause. This forum should provide our efforts greater visibility and impact.
2. CAUSE was officially kicked off on June 26, 2015 with the first of 3 forums on “Social and Economic Development” with School of Social Welfare leading to K. Briar-Lawson, P. Miesing, & B. Ramos, Social Entrepreneurship and Enterprises in Economic and Social Development (Oxford University Press, 2020)
 - The first one engaged social work leaders from transition economies (including participants from Cuba and Russia) as well as entrepreneurs and business consultants with experience in these countries. They addressed social and economic development and the rise of social work and social welfare systems along with the rise of entrepreneurship and microenterprises, including the ways “welfare states” and emerging economies might be more inclusive of entrepreneurs – social and otherwise.
 - The second one was held on September 11, 2015 with a “Panel on Social and Economic Development: Cross-National Comparisons and Analyses” and a workshop of the volume’s authors.
 - The third one was held on February 4, 2016 focusing on Cuba and featured a special guest speaker from the University of Havana joining our “Panel on Social and Economic Development: Cross-National Comparisons and Analyses.” Again, there were also workshops to organize the book volume.
