Title: Academic Recovery Program

Responsible Unit: Undergraduate Education

The Academic Recovery Program provides personalized and collaborative academic support to students that are facing academic difficulties and are in probationary academic standing. The goal of this program is to retain and return these students to good academic standing and reduce the number of students academically dismissed every year. Students will learn to develop the skills they need to maintain academic success and graduate.

The Academic Recovery Program will provide structured and personalized academic support services with a higher level of engagement to students on academic probation. Students will:

- Receive guidance and support from a personal Academic Recovery Advocate and will connect with this advocate on a weekly basis.
- Participate in a weekly academic tutoring or small group session to deepen their understanding of class subject.
- Participate in weekly study skills and developmental workshops in an effort to help students better organize their time and to study more effectively.
- Complete a self-evaluation and provide an accurate assessment of their current academic situation, in order to move forward and develop an academic plan that will guide goal setting and track goal attainment.
- Agree to Progress Reports by allowing Academic Recovery Advocate to communicate with professors, advisors and staff in other support offices to better assist the student.
